

The world is waiting...

for new saints, ecstatic men and women who are so deeply rooted in the love of God that they are free to imagine a new international order. . . .

Most people despair that [it] is possible. They cling to old ways and prefer the security of their misery to the insecurity of their joy. But the few who dare to sing a new song of peace are the new St. Francis of our time, offering a glimpse of a new order that is being born out of the ruin of the old.
